Teamsters Defy AFL-CIO

Delegates are Ready to Elect Hoffa President

MIAMI BEACH (UP)—Teamsters Union delegates appeared certain today to defy AFL-CIO cleanup orders and elect James R. Hoffa their new president.

The vote, which will put the parent AFL-CIO on the spot to make good its outster threats, could come today but may be delayed by other business.

The final roadblock to Hoffa's overwhelming election to succeed Dave Beck was brushed aside Wednesday night when the defiant convention voted to toss in the waste-basket corruption charges by the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee. Also voted down was a move to make the ballot secret which would have helped anti-Hoffa forces and an AFL-CIO recommendation that officers' terms be limited to four years.

Ouster Now Likely

The lopsided vote to ignore accusations in a report by the Ethical Practices Committee of the parent union almost insured that the AFL-CIO would boot out the Teamsters in December. The Teamsters defiance to the AFL-CIO is certain to bring action at the federation's Atlantic City, N.J. convention then. On the first test of strength at the convention here, Hoffa backers outnumbered their opponents by a five-to-one margin. The delegates listened to the report, a blistering indictment of Hoffa, outgoing President Dave Beck and other top officials for more than two hours. They seemed bored by it all.

Then in rapid fire action, they thundered a mighty "no" to suggestions that the union investigate the charges. An overwhelming "aye" wiped the report from the convention record moments later.

Beck and Teamsters Vice President Frank Brewster were accused of misusing thousands of dollars in union funds in the report. Beck did not make a formal defense but said he would answer charges in court. He is indicted on charges of evading federal income tax.

Issue Four Oil Drilling Permits

Four oil well drilling permits for operations in Saline county have been issued at Springfield as follows:

To Breuer and Curran, Oil Co., Chicago, for the Westbrook No. 1, SEC NW SE, 9-8s-7e (Eldorado);

To C. E. Brehm Drilling and Producing Co., Mt. Vernon, Ill., for the G. R. Johnson "A" No. 3, SW SE SW, 20-8s-5e (Tate);

To Walter L. Day, Marion, for the Empson No. 1, NEC SE, 29-8s-5e (Tate);

To the Texas Company, Tulsa, Okla., for the R. J. Karnes No. 1, SEC NE NW, 9-8s-6e (Raleigh)

Teachers' Institute Speaker Is Distinguished Pulpit Orator, Author

Dr. Preston Bradley, who will speak during both morning and afternoon sessions of the Saline County Teachers Institute at Harrisburg Friday, has written eight books, two of which, "Courage for Today" and "Mastering Fear," have been best sellers.

His latest book, "Happiness Through Creative Living," was third on the best-seller list two weeks after publication.

Dr. Bradley, minister of the Peoples Church of Chicago, largest non-sectarian church in the country, will speak on "You Control Your Future" at 10:45 a. m. and "Where Are We Going in World Affairs" at 2 p. m.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Bradley's talk.

The featured speaker, one of the most sought-after speakers in the Midwest, has frequently been referred to as one of the five most distinguished pulpits orators in America. He gives more than 200 lectures a year and is booked for more than a year in advance.

Besides his speaking career, Dr. Bradley has been a member of the State Prison Investigation committee, has served longer than any other person as member of the board of directors of the Chicago Public Library and today is chairman of the Library committee which buys every book that goes into the Chicago Public Library.

As an orator Dr. Bradley is recognized throughout the nation and probably has more friends among the Jewish people, the Roman Catholic church and all branches of Protestantism than any other minister in the Chicago pulpit.

He has crossed the Atlantic for times and spends a part of each summer speaking and preaching in Europe.

To Exchange Views

Dulles, Gromyko to Confer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will attempt to smoke out Soviet intentions on disarmament and the Middle East when he confers this week end with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Administration officials said today the two topics head the list of world issues expected to come up at the Dulles-Gromyko meeting.

MINES

Sahara 5, 6, 2nd washer shift work.
Carmac works.
Will Scarlett idle.

The State Department announced Wednesday night Dulles had invited Gromyko to come to Washington Saturday afternoon for an "exchange of views on various international issues of concern to both the United States and the USSR."

At Dulles' Home

The meeting will be held at Dulles' home on the edge of mansion-lined Rock Creek Park. An aide said Dulles "likes to stay home and work on Saturdays" so he decided to have the four-day visit here.

State Department officials said no international emergency prompted Dulles' invitation. They also said Dulles does not have any new disarmament or Middle East peace plans to propose to Gromyko.

Dulles' idea, officials said, is to find out whether the Soviets are as tough as they sound on disarmament, the Middle East, Germany and other important issues long deadlocked between East and West.

Dulles has told friends recently he doubts talks with the Russians would do any good except possibly on disarmament.

Arms Feeling Optimistic

The feeling persists in official quarters here that the Russians may yet agree to something in the way of disarmament. They thought a hint of this was given in a comment Sept. 28 in New York by Vasily V. Kuznetsov, Soviet deputy to Gromyko. Kuznetsov told a news conference at the U. N. Moscow might look with favor on a new conference of national leaders with disarmament as the principal topic.

Dulles also has a personal reason for wanting to sit down with Gromyko. It is known Dulles asked American intelligence agencies some time ago to try to find out just who is running Soviet foreign policy. Now he will get his chance to try. He has some suspicion the former British diplomats Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess, who fled Britain for Russia, are working in the Soviet foreign office.

Boost Corn Price Support to $1.40 Bu.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department has raised price supports on corn to $1.40 per bushel.

The department also boosted supports for grain sorghums to $1.86 per hundred-weight.

The new corn rate is 4 cents higher than the support announced before the planting season and the grain sorghum rate is 3 cents higher.

The increases were ordered because the parity price on which supports are based has been raised by an increase in farm expenses.

Wilson Leaves Defense Post

WASHINGTON (UP)—The armed forces flex their might in a farewell salute today to their boss for the past five years, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

The 67-year-old industrialist who has presided over revolutionary new developments in American military power will review marching troops from all the services while guns boom and jets whoosh overhead in the special afternoon ceremony at nearby Ft. Myer, Va.

Secretaries of the armed forces and the joint chiefs of staff are staging the mustering out tribute. Wilson leaves management of the world's biggest business, the $3 billion-a-year defense establishment Wednesday. He will be succeeded by Proctor & Gamble President Neil H. McElroy.

President Eisenhower personally acclaimed Wilson's leadership. He said under him "the strength of our security forces has not only been maintained but has been significantly increased."

Autos Collide at Webster, Lincoln

Chief of Police Ross Lane today reported that cars driven by Mrs. Marsha McGuire and "Tubby" Gully, 16, both of Harrisburg, collided at Webster and Lincoln streets about 8:45 a. m.

Mrs. McGuire, who suffered from shock, was taken to a doctor for treatment, Lane stated. There was considerable damage to her car and the Gully auto was a total loss, he added, stating the machine landed bottom upward following the collision.

Sister-In-Law of Mrs. Gus Syers Dies

Mrs. Gus Syers, 503 South McKinley, Harrisburg, has received word of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lee Caldwell, sister of the late Gus and Jake Syers, died late Wednesday in Sturgis, Ky.

Rites Saturday for Leo Lanton

The funeral of Leo Lanton, 59, Carrier Mills, who died in an automobile crash near Thompsonville, Tuesday, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Lake View Baptist church. The body will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills until the funeral time. Burial will be in the Lake View church cemetery.

Gov. Faubus Says He Is Willing To Negotiate

Will Not Agree To Unconditional Surrender to Ike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he is willing to negotiate further with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock school integration crisis but he will not agree to a "complete and unconditional surrender."

Faubus told a news conference that he would be glad to have further talks with Eisenhower "on a basis of mutual trust and self respect."

A reporter asked him if he felt that such an attitude prevailed at this time.

Faubus retorted: "I do not." "I think they want me to do the same thing that Eisenhower did when he demanded complete and unconditional surrender of the Germans," he said.

"I'm not going to completely give up the powers of governor of the state. Far more is involved than Little Rock and the powers of a chief executive. It affects every state in the Union," Faubus said.

"They may come and take over as they have done, but I will not give up the powers of chief executive of my own volition."

He was asked what he believed must be done to relieve the present stalemate.

He said he had "no expression" on that "at the moment."

Did he see any possibility of a settlement within the next several days?

"There is always a possibility," he said. "But I do not see any probability."

Faubus was standing pat on his declaration Tuesday night in which he told Eisenhower that Federal Court integration orders will not be obstructed "by me."

Faubus emphasized his position in a news conference Wednesday. He said further that he would not use National Guardsmen, if federal troops were withdrawn, to keep order inside Central High School.

Faubus also announced that he expects more violence if federal troops are pulled out. That was one thing which convinced President Eisenhower that he had done the right thing.

Mrs. Catlin In Full Charge Alaska Hospital For 2-Month Period

Mrs. Opal Catlin, formerly of Harrisburg, now superintendent of the MMM hospital in Nome, Alaska, had practically the full responsibility of the hospital operating without a resident doctor, for a two months' period ending in September. Dr. William Woodcock, Hot Springs, Ark., arrived the week of Sept. 16, to replace Dr. Fred Langsam who had left the hospital in July. During the interval between, Mrs. Catlin kept a constant vigil and alerted doctors to serious cases, ever sending patients to other hospitals as their need for doctors was evident.

Dr. Woodcock expressed his appreciation of her efforts.

Paratroopers Back On Job

50 White Students Walk Out at Central High; Burn Effigy Figure

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—About 50 white students walked out of Central High School today and burned an effigy figure of a Negro student in an organized demonstration against integration.

A heavily reinforced troop guard promptly broke up the demonstration, dispersed the small crowd, and erected blockades to seal off the street in front of the high school.

The demonstration fell far short of the "mass walkout" of hundreds of white students which segregationist groups, including the so-called "Central High Mothers' League," had sought to organize.

The vast majority of the nearly 2,000 students enrolled at Central High were sitting quietly in class. School officials had warned in advance that anyone participating in the walkout would automatically be expelled.

Ernest W. Read, 64, of Wasson Community, Dies

Ernest W. Read, 64, of Wasson community, RFD 4, Harrisburg, died in the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg at 2:30 a. m. today.

The body is in the care of the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado, and the funeral will be held in the chapel there at 2 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Delmar Peazel of Raleigh will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Mr. Read had been in failing health for two years and in a critical condition for the past week. He was a retired farmer, a veteran of World War I and past commander of American Legion Post 169, Eldorado. He was a member of the Union Grove Baptist church.

He is survived by his wife, Grace Bramlet Read, his daughter Mrs. Rae (Lucy) McConnell, his brother Earl Read, St. Louis, Mo., his half brother Arthur Read, Raleigh, and his granddaughter, Ora Rae McConnell.

Henry Armes, 76, Dies at Galatia

Henry Armes, 76, a former resident of Thompsonville, died in the Good Shepherd nursing home at Galatia, Wedn. day night. The body will lie in state at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia until the funeral Saturday. The funeral services will be held in the Courtney Line church south of Thompsonville and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Armes is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Anna Droit of Thompsonville, his granddaughter, Irma Dell Vick, Johnston City and three great grandchildren.

Boy Awarded $135,000

CHICAGO (UP)—An attorney, with the aid of an elaborate scale model of the Illinois Central Railroad yard, has won a $135,000 damage award for a boy who lost both his legs when he was run over by a train.

The judgment in favor of Lawrence Burrell, 9, East St. Louis, was entered late Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Courtney who heard the case without a jury.

Mrs. Willie Heard Burrell, the boy's mother, had sued for $200,000 on behalf of her son. Mrs. Burrell has six other children.

Attorney John J. Kennelly, using a $2,000 scale model of the IC yards at East St. Louis, showed the route Lawrence took across the yard to reach a playground when he was struck by a switch engine in 1953.

Kennelly claimed children continually used the tracks to get to the playground in the absence of a better route and the railroad was negligent in not providing lookouts or warnings.

Railroad lawyers charged the boy was a trespasser on IC property.

Inquest Monday in

Death of Randall Davis Jr.

Saline County Deputy Coroner Ralph Bean will hold an inquest into the death of Randall Davis Jr., 32, at the city hall in Eldorado at 7:30 p. m. Monday. Mr. Davis, a resident of Christopher, was fatally injured Wednesday when he was apparently run over by his own truck while driving for the Triangle Construction Co., on the new Illinois highway 141. Mr. Davis died in an Eldorado hospital two hours later.

Along Skyline Drive

First of Four Autumn Color Tours Will Be Held Sunday, Oct. 6

The first of four Sunday Auto Autumn Color Tours, along the Skyline Drive of the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail of Southern Illinois is listed for Sunday, Oct. 6.

Other tours are scheduled for succeeding Sundays, Oct. 13, Oct. 20 and Oct. 27. All tours are to begin at 10 a. m.

Those planning to participate in the tours are to bring their picnic lunch and hiking clothes are recommended.

A period of the tour will be reserved for religious meditation. The section of Southern Illinois in the area of the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail has been widely publicized by the Ozark Tours, started in 1933 by the late L. O. Trigg, Eldorado newspaper publisher. After Mr. Trigg's death the tours have been continued by William H. Farley, Wayman Presley, L. A. Dearinger, Arch Voight, Irvin Poitman, John Allen and many others devoted to the cause of bringing attention of the public to the scenic and historical attractions of Southern Illinois.

Sunday's tour will start from the filling station at the intersection of Route 3 and Grand Tower Road, with Joe Dillon of Christopher and Arch Voight of Du Quoin the leaders.

Points of interest to be visited include Devil's Backbone Park, Pine Hills and Scenic Drive, Clear Springs Picnic area, Pomona Natural Bridge, Cove Hollow and Bald Knob.

The Sunday, Oct. 13, tour will start from the Texaco station in Cobden and automobiles are to be parked facing east along the black top street. Louis Martin of Benton and D. A. Purdy, Du Quoin, will lead the tour.

Kerr Bluff, Panther Den, Draper and Cedar Bluffs, Scout Cave, Camp Pakenuck (Boy Scouts of America), and Jackson's Hollow will be visited.

The Sunday, Oct. 20, tour will start from the intersection of Routes 145 and 34, southeast edge of Harrisburg, with Louis Aaron and John Foster, both of Harrisburg, leaders.

Says Governor Must Give Full Assurances

President Counsels Patience, Tolerance On Integration Issue

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower said today that federal troops will have to remain in Little Rock unless Gov. Orval E. Faubus changes his stand on school integration and gives satisfactory and unequivocal assurance that law and order will be maintained.

There also must be assurance, the President said, that Federal Court orders on integration are not obstructed.

The President said that for the time being he sees no possibility of assuring continued attendance of Negro students at Little Rock's Central High school without keeping federal troops there.

He said he thought Faubus was mistaken in what he was doing. He said Faubus was committing a disservice to the city of Little Rock and the state of Arkansas. Unhold Court Order Eisenhower expressed his views at his first news conference since the Little Rock crisis developed.

He deplored having to send federal troops to Little Rock in the first place. He said the use of such tactics was not good for the locality, not good for the troops and certainly not representative of America except in the most extreme cases where force was absolutely necessary to uphold the orders of a court.

To permit unchecked defiance of a court order, Eisenhower said, would be to invite chaos and anarchy.

He counseled a display of patience and tolerance on both sides of the integration issue. And he called on citizens to remember America as well as their own private prejudices.

The Possible Actions

At the outset of his conference, the President was told that the situation in Little Rock seemed to have reached an impasse. He was then asked what the prospects were for some sort of agreement with Faubus and what the next step would be.

"The President replied that several things could happen:

—The committee of four southern governors who conferred here with the President Tuesday, are

McSparin-Brooks Marriage Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lee Brooks

Miss Alice Joan McSparin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Lee McSparin, Stonetort, became the bride of Ronald Lee Brooks of Alton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 7 in the Main Street Methodist church at Alton. Rev. Paul Brown performed the double-ring marriage ceremony before the altar decorated with ferns and tall stand vases of gladioli and greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of waterfall taffeta, styled in the princess fashion with a V neckline and long sleeves pointed at the hands. Her skirt swept in a graceful line to the floor. The gown was made by her mother. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length, edged with lace and was secured to a headpiece of tuberoses. She carried a white orchid with lily of the valley streamers on her white Bible and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Carolyn Joyce McSparin, sister of the bride, was her attendant and wore a ballerina length dress of blue taffeta. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the bride and carried a spray of carnations. The junior bridesmaid, Sandra Sue McSparin, sister of the bride, also wore blue taffeta and carried carnations.

Flower girl, Francine Brooks, sister of the bridegroom, wore a

The Illinois Office Organization Association of ITHS held its regular meeting in the Carrier Mills community park on Sept. 24. This was a winter roast and picnic supper meeting and the hostess was Mrs. Guy Hunter, supervisor.

Following the supper, there was a brief business meeting during which the dues were collected.

Attending were: Mary Schwartz, Linda Schwartz, Mary Jane Mullinix, Kathleen Howton, Ruth Ganz, Sandra Duke, Pat Harris, Joanne Chambers, Darlene Abney, Harriet Kelley, Carole Cable, Mary Langford, Barbara Travelstead, Dorothy Waddell, Frieda Winters, Judy Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. James Parkhurst and Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hunter and Nancy.

Cornelia Leavel Circle Holds Installation Service

The Cornelia Leavel circle of the First Baptist church held its regular Royal Service program in the educational building, Tuesday evening. The meeting started with a dinner and the tables were galas with fall flowers and matching napkins. Booklets, representing windows, opened to reveal the program and served as place cards. Mrs. Jesse Wiley asked the blessing before the meal.

Mrs. Susie Boorman, president-elect, presided at the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Edna Lewis, who is in St. Louis, Mo., hospital. Mrs. Thelma Josey read the minutes and reports of the chairmen of standing committees and were heard.

The circle is named for a missionary in Hawaii. Some of the circles rotate names as they rotate their members, but Cornelia Leavel circle voted to retain her name. The group voted to send a gift to this missionary soon. Special prayers are offered for her often.

Special prayer was offered for Mrs. Edna Lewis, led by Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf, and the members signed a get-well card to send to her. Mrs. Lewis, president for two years, was sent a gift of appreciation for her service.

Mrs. Thelma Josey, program chairman, represented a door-keeper and topics were presented as doors, opened by their readers, and were as follows: "A Cobbler's Shop," Mrs. Jesse Wiley; "The Door of Heritage," Mrs. Hazel May; "The Door of the Present," Mrs. Millicent Guard; "The Door of Opportunity," Mrs. Susie Boorman; "The Door of Responsibility," Mrs. Mildred Ingle; and "Doors Open Wide," Mrs. Dorothy McDaniel.

Following the topics, Mrs. Clayton Humphrey was introduced as the installing officer. Each officer was installed separately as follows: Mrs. Susie Boorman, president; Mrs. Thelma Josey, vice-president; Mrs. Odell Doorn, program chairman; Miss Sara Cole, stewardship chairman; Mrs. Pavah Whiteside, secretary; Mrs. Harriet Land, treasurer; Mrs. Amsey Milev, Mission study chairman; Mrs. Fannie Rich, community missions; Mrs. Millicent Guard, publicity chairman; Mrs. Edna Lewis, youth director; Mrs. Mary Musgrave, prayer chairman; Mrs. Gertrude White, flower chairman; Mrs. Mildred Ingle, pianist; and Mrs. Laverne Clayton, chorister.

Mrs. Humphrey closed the ceremony with prayer. She was given a potted plant in appreciation for her fine installation service.

Other visitors were Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf and Mrs. Beverly Butler. The November meeting will be planned by Mrs. Millicent Guard and the hostesses will be Mrs. Amsey Milev and Mrs. Harriet Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Guard, Dorris Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petty, have returned from a two weeks' tour of the Eastern states. They visited Fredericksburg, Williamsburg and James town, Va., and Washington, D. C., where they were entertained by a cousin's family, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gibson. Mr. Gibson was assistant secretary of labor under the late President Roosevelt. He took them deep sea fishing off of the Delaware coast, where they report many fine catches, and to Virginia Beach. Returning, they toured Philadelphia, drove on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and visited with Mr. and Mrs. David Guard, their son's family, who live at Pontiac, Ill.

Mr. Brooks was graduated from the Carrier Mills high school and from the Nursing school of Alton Memorial hospital, in September of this year.

Mr. Brooks was graduated from Alton high school and is a book keeper at the Alton Banking and Trust company.

World Wide Communion Sunday at First Presbyterian Church

On Sunday, Oct. 6, the First Presbyterian church will join with millions of other Protestant congregations to celebrate World Wide Communion Sunday. This annual observance began in 1937 upon call of the Presbyterian church by the National Council of Churches in 1940 and now has spread to more than fifty countries. It is a tangible sign of the yearning toward unity and cooperation among Christian bodies.

Skin Source

Doeskin gloves are named for the female deer because, centuries ago, the softest gloves were made in France from the skin of that animal. Today, the skins are provided by baby lambs raised on French hillside expressly for glove-making.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

The softness of a kindly human voice can herald loud praise of God before the silent crowds of those who wait for a witness. The words one speaks are powerful in their influence on humankind.

The words of Christ have been ringing in the ears of men for nearly 2,000 years. All of us share in His power to pass along the word of God to those who seek. The lonely, the discouraged and the sorrowful need our words of kindness, understanding and sympathy.

The sinful, the hateful and the selfish need our words of conviction. We must not destroy men with our voices, but we must challenge them to repent and seek the higher way through life. It is not the thunder of the voice but the sincerity and conviction of its tone which carries our words to the hearts of our fellow men.

Eisenhower Says Justice Dep't Probing Labor Corruption Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower disclosed today that the Justice Department is probing charges of corruption in labor unions.

So far, he said, the department has not made a report.

Eisenhower made the statement at his news conference when asked whether the government planned any further steps to curb labor corruption or collusion in the labor-management field. The questioner said he referred particularly to the Teamsters Union and the trucking industry.

The President replied that he had been conferring with top labor and legal aides when the corruption charges were first made. He said the object was to determine whether the government could take any further steps.

Eisenhower's news conference was devoted almost exclusively to the Little Rock, Ark., school integration crisis.

However, in a brief discussion of the federal budget, he said it is going to be extremely hard to cut federal spending to 70 billion dollars a year.

For one thing, he said, all

SIU Trustees Approve Appointment Of Full, Part-Time Staff Members

The Southern Illinois University board of trustees today approved appointment of four associate professors, five assistant professors, and 15 lecturers, along with part-time instructors. Seven of the new full-time staff members and 32 of the part-time additions will teach in the Residence Centers.

Francis H. Horn, president of Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, was named lecturer and distinguished visiting professor of higher education.

Another visiting lecturer is Herbert Roan, formerly art director for House Beautiful magazine and design unit director for the State Department. He will serve as lecturer and instructor in design.

Herbert B. Huddle, a University of Miami professor, was named lecturer and professor of chemistry in the SIU Residence Center, located at Alton and East St. Louis.

For the Carbondale campus, Albert Shafter, a Carbondale native who has been mental health educator for the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, was named associate professor of sociology. William M. Herr, an economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, is a new associate professor of agricultural industries.

Elizabeth Mullin, an area residence hall director at Indiana University, replaced Elizabeth Greenleaf as coordinator of student activities. Thomas J. Burns, a certified public accountant and assistant professor at Lawrence College, joins the Vocational-Technical Institute.

Three other assistant professors and their departments are: Lowell S. Jordan, research assistant at the University of Minnesota, plant industry, and Robert W. Duncan, assistant professor at the University of Wichita, English, assigned to Residence Centers.

Mrs. Vesta Morgan, wife of SIU's supervisor of campus service departments and a teacher at Carbondale Community high school, will lecture in home and family.

Raymond L. Foster and Mrs. Frances Loder will be resident counselors in student housing. Foster will also be a lecturer in administration and supervision and Mrs. Loder will lecture in speech.

Other Carbondale appointments include:

Louise Ann Johnson, formerly with the National Opinion Research Center, lecturer in sociology.

Ulrich Lehmann, recently on the faculty of the University of Hamburg, Germany, lecturer in geology.

Barbara Lubotsky, librarian for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, lecturer in English.

Robert M. Tomlinson, instructor at Illinois State Normal University, lecturer in guidance.

Mrs. L. Iside York, operator of a West Frankfort beauty shop, lecturer in the Vocational-Technical Institute.

A librarian from the University of Nebraska, Floyd R. Meyer was assigned to Residence Centers as an assistant professor. Raymond J. Spahn, who directed U. S. Information Centers and was chief of youth education in Bavaria, Germany, was named associate professor. He will teach German and supervise information services at the Madison St. Clair county centers.

Three of Quints
Born to French
Couple, Die

TOULON, France (UPI)—Three of the Christophe quintuplets died Wednesday night and early today leaving only a tiny boy and girl struggling for life in incubators at Foch Hospital.

Two doctors and several nurses maintained a 24-hour vigil over the remaining two in hopes of preserving the fragile lives for their parents who had been childless for eight years.

The hospital reported the mother, Mrs. Camille Christophe, 28, was doing fine.

Mrs. Christophe gave birth to three quintuplets—three girls and two boys—at St. Michael Clinic Wednesday. The babies, weighing about two pounds each, were rushed to Foch Hospital and placed in incubators.

Mrs. Christophe, a small woman who once was told she was sterile, had expected twins. The babies were three months premature.

Doctors refused to predict the chances for survival of the remaining two babies.

Mrs. Christophe and her husband, Laurence, 33, had been childless for the eight years of their marriage. Both have been working in the Social Security Administration at Toulon, Mediterranean, an home of the French Navy. She quit three months ago.

Part of Christophe's job is paying benefits to persons who have children. If all their children had survived, the Christophes, who made about $200 a month together, would have gotten another $80 a month from the government.

The only survivors of quintuplets in the world are the Diligentis in Argentina—three girls and two boys—and the four Dionne sisters in Canada.

DeGaulle Watches
French Crisis

PARIS (UPI)—Nearly two million more French workers went on strike today, leading new urgency to President Rene Coty's efforts to select a premier before economic chaos strengthens the "draft De Gaulle" movement.

Gen. Charles De Gaulle, war-time leader of the Free French who is regarded by many Frenchmen as the liberator, slipped in to town from his Lorraine Province retreat to keep in closer touch with the situation.

Coty was reported to be considering former premiers Guy Mollet and Rene Pleven, but before calling in any prospective premier.

Queen Elizabeth Plans Trip Despite Son Having Flu

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth will go to the United States and Canada on schedule this month despite the fact her son has flu, in formed sources predicted today.

They said a 8-year-old prince Charles, who was put in the infirmary at Chesham School Wednesday, probably would be well again by the time the Queen and Prince Philip are scheduled to start their trip Oct. 12.

Word of Prince Charles' illness was sent to Buckingham Palace Wednesday.

It appeared to be a mild form of flu now sweeping Britain and the usual cure is several days in bed.

Reach 'Dead End' In Probe of Bombing at Colp

COLP, Ill. (UPI)—Williamson County Sheriff Carl Miller says he has reached a "dead end" in an investigation of the bombing of a Negro night club at Colp Monday night.

Miller said that two leads he was pursuing in the case "did not pan out."

William Hatchett Jr., Negro president of the Colp grade school board, owns the New Orleans night club which was ripped by the explosion. The Colp school was devastated by white punis after the Negro-dominated board voted to consolidate Negro and white schools.

There were no injuries in the blast, Miller said he and an insurance investigator concluded Wednesday that about eight sticks of dynamite were used.

No reason has been advanced for the blast, but authorities said they do not believe the school trouble was responsible.

Miller said Hatchett indicated he would rebuild the dance hall.

THE CANVAS DAGGER by HELEN REILLY

THE STORY: Sarah Casement believes someone was in the studio of Grant Melville just before the artist fell four floors to his death. No one will believe Sarah and in order to prove to herself that she saw someone through the window, she volunteers to help the widow Melville's biography. There are several applicants for the job.

IV

Sarah went through the indicated door and closed it behind her. The room was a formal living room. The portrait of Melville hung over the mantel.

It was a self-portrait. The dead painter gazed out, pale as in one hand, knife in the other. He was smiling a little. His lips, red lips were slightly parted. It wasn't the floor. A man was seated at the desk, working with a sheaf of papers. His back was toward her, a recognizable back with narrow, sloping shoulders.

It was Mr. Dennett, the man with the unhappy hat, the man who had been dismissed with finality at least 20 minutes earlier.

Dennett finished with his task which appeared to be the search of the desk. He put the papers back in an open drawer, closed the drawer, pushed back the chair, got up—and saw Sarah.

"Oh . . . ah . . . Good morning."

There was a door that led directly into the hall. Mr. Dennett started for it. Watching him move or in the same place. The reason she hadn't recognized Melville when she looked across at him from Zita's apartment that day was the beard, of course. It changed him completely.

The room was L-shaped. It went around a corner at the front. Beyond a wide, curtained arch was a library. The walls were lined with books. There was a large handsome desk in the middle of the floor. A man was seated at the desk, working with a sheaf of papers. His back was toward her, a recognizable back with narrow, sloping shoulders.

Dennett finished with his task which appeared to be the search of the desk. He put the papers back in an open drawer, closed the drawer, pushed back the chair, got up—and saw Sarah.

"Oh . . . ah . . . Good morning."

There was a door that led directly into the hall. Mr. Dennett started for it. Watching him move or in the same place. The reason she hadn't recognized Melville when she looked across at him from Zita's apartment that day was the beard, of course. It changed him completely.

The room was L-shaped. It went around a corner at the front. Beyond a wide, curtained arch was a library. The walls were lined with books. There was a large handsome desk in the middle of the floor. A man was seated at the desk, working with a sheaf of papers. His back was toward her, a recognizable back with narrow, sloping shoulders.

It was Mr. Dennett, the man with the unhappy hat, the man who had been dismissed with finality at least 20 minutes earlier.

THE CANVAS DAGGER by HELEN REILLY

THE STORY: Sarah Casement believes someone was in the studio of Grant Melville just before the artist fell four floors to his death. No one will believe Sarah and in order to prove to herself that she saw someone through the window, she volunteers to help the widow Melville's biography. There are several applicants for the job.

Sarah went through the indicated door and closed it behind her. The room was a formal living room. The portrait of Melville hung over the mantel.

It was a self-portrait. The dead painter gazed out, pale as in one hand, knife in the other. He was smiling a little. His lips, red lips were slightly parted. It wasn't the

Bull Dogs Meet Mt. Vernon in Conference Tilt Here Friday Night

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, rudely jolted at a T-party on high school hill at Eldorado last week, return to home soil to face another formidable opponent Friday night.

The locals, beaten 56-6 by Eldorado as the Eagles put on as fine an exhibition on how the T-formation should be run as any ever seen on a southern Illinois prep gridiron, meet the Mt. Vernon Rams in a South Seven conference game at Taylor Field in a contest starting at 7 p. m. Friday.

The Rams, coached by Noble Thomas, last week ran roughshod over a West Frankfort team that had appeared impressive in winning its first two contests. The score was 36-7.

With a lot of speed in the backfield, Mt. Vernon is scoring a lot on long runs. After the Rams took a 2-0 lead on a safety they scored on a 48-yard run by Glenn Fleming, a 40-yard punt return by Willie Hardin and a 70-yard jaunt by Willie Rodgers.

So Harrisburg's big job will be to keep the fleet backs from being turned loose by the Mt. Vernon blockers.

Other Games in Area

Harrisburg will have a problem, too, in that it has been hard to get a consistent running attack into operation this year. Up to last week the offense was poor but the defense was great. Then against Eldorado neither was effective. At any rate, the local players will be hoping they get a better chance to see the ball than they did at Eldorado.

In one other South Seven game Friday night, West Frankfort will play at Marion. That means that Benton, Herrin and Centralia will be taking on non-conference foes Benton travels to Murphysboro, Herrin to Chester and Centralia will entertain Belleville.

Other games this week end will find Eldorado at Johnston City; Carbondale Community at Sparta; Pinckneyville at Anna, Shawnee at Du Quoin, Salem at Fairfield, Cairo at Charleston, Mo., Flora at Mt. Carmel, Sesser at Elkhart, McLeansboro at Metropolis and Christopher at Zeigler.

Cardinals are Definitely Interested in Obtaining Robin Roberts, Lane Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Lane said today the Cardinals are "definitely interested" in obtaining Robin Roberts but there were indications St. Louis might have to outbid the National League champion Milwaukee Braves.

Lane refused to commit himself on which players he might offer the Phillies, but the Braves apparently are ready to give up a pitcher plus infielder Felix Mantilla and catcher Carl Sawatski if they can swing the deal.

"I still consider Roberts a mighty fine pitcher even though he lost 22 games this year," Lane said. "He's the kind of competitor who could come right back and win 15 or 18 next season."

Roy Hamey, general manager of the Phillies, also thinks along Lane's lines in that respect and thus far has shown no indication he is ready to peddle the 31-year-old right hander, who won 20 or more games every season from 1950 through 1955.

The Phillies, however, are known to be in the market for right-handed power hitters and the Cards might be induced to part with Ken Boyer.

"I don't want to say who I'd give up for Roberts," Lane explained, "because no matter who I named, Hamey would come back and say, 'I wouldn't give up Roberts for three of whom ever Lane offered.'"

"If Roberts is available, the St. Louis club is definitely interested. And I think we could make the Phillies a good deal. Now it's up to them, though."

As far as any "untouchables" with the Cardinals are concerned, Lane said owner Gusie Busch told him when he first came to St. Louis that he could trade anyone he wished with the exception of Stan Musial.

"I like my job" the Cardinal general manager said, "so when my boss tells me something, I don't go contrary to his wishes."

Lane, here to see the World Series, suddenly changed the subject to the Braves chances against the Yankees and said he couldn't agree with some of those who already were talking about a four-game sweep.

"Why, Lew Burdette is just liable to go out there today and hang the Yankees up on a clothesline," he said. "The Braves will let the Yanks know they've been in a battle before this thing is over."

And one thing more, Lane added, changing the subject this time to Cardinal Manager Freddie Hutchinson.

"He proved to me what a good manager he was, not by giving the Braves such a great run for their money," he pointed out, "but by how well he handled the club during our nine-game losing streak."

Ford Has Clear Path to Be Top Series Hurler

NEW YORK (AP)—Whitey Ford, the little southpaw who pitches the big games for the New York Yankees, seems to have a clear path today toward becoming the most successful World Series pitcher of all time.

The 28-year-old Ford's 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in Wednesday's 1957 opener marked his fifth triumph in a Series career dating back to his rookie campaign in 1950. He is only two victories behind the Series mark held jointly by ex-Yankee heroes Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds and should draw six to eight more starting shots before he hangs up his glove.

Whitey can expect to pick up at least one, and perhaps two more starts, in the current Series. And, unless the Yankees suddenly lose their magic touch, he can expect Series starts in four or five of the next eight years.

Ford may be one of the most under-rated pitchers in baseball because he never has acquired that well-known badge of the first class hurler—a 20-victory season. The big reason for this, however, are that the Yankees like to spread the work around among their pitchers more than most teams find possible and that Whitey suffered a sore arm at the beginning of the current season.

"I hope I never have to go through that again," he said. "I laid awake nights wondering whether I'd feel sore when I pitched the next day. I looked in the mirror and said, 'You could be through.' But I'm okay again now and I hope I've shaken those miseries forever."

With a six-year record of 91 victories and 33 losses Ford is the most successful pitcher in the majors, percentagewise (.734).

When properly trained and and placed in the right jobs, physically handicapped workers equal the production records of able bodied workers. Don't ignore this important labor source. Hire the handicapped—it's good business.

Yama Bahama Wants Bout With DeMarco In Welterweight Class

CHICAGO (AP)—Yama Bahama, a durable West Indian fighter, wants to get out of the middleweight class and fight welterweight Tony DeMarco in his next bout.

Bahama, who has been fighting middleweights for the last year, scored another win in the 160-pound class Wednesday night, defeating another welterweight, Del Flanagan, St. Paul, Minn., in an overweight battle. Bahama scaled 154 pounds and Flanagan 153.

Neither fighter was impressive and both said they were too heavy to be at their best.

10 Men Named in Indictments in Gallatin County

A special Gallatin county grand jury in session Thursday and Friday returned true bills against 10 men. The charges include murder, rape, forgery, and burglary and larceny.

Donald Ray Mears and his brothers, Hallas and Robert Mears, were indicted for the shotgun murder of Vincent York at New Haven on July 19. Donald is being held in the county jail without bond. The bail of Hallas and Robert was fixed at $20,000 each by Circuit Judge Roy O. Gully.

Omar Barger Jr. and John Nelson were indicted for burglary and larceny in connection with the assault on and taking by force from Robert Parish on June 16, $40 in money, a pocket knife, cigarette lighter, Elgin pocket watch and Chevrolet automobile with a total value of $367. Bond was fixed at $2,500 each.

Paul Nelson was indicted for forgery. He allegedly on December 19, 1956, made or counterfeited a check to himself in the amount of $5.00, forging the signature of Adrian Frailey. The check, drawn on the First National Bank of Shawneetown, was cashed at the Shawnee service station. Nelson's bond was fixed at $2,000.

Robert Filligan and Kenneth Earl Koker were indicted for burglary and larceny. They allegedly, on May 15, 1957, entered the house of Burlie Griffin, formerly used as a dwelling house, and carried away a tool box, set of wrenches, 200 gallons of gasoline, 8 buckets, and 20 gallons of motor oil, with a total value of $75. Their bonds were set at $1,500 each.

Valentino Gene Lucercenz and James William Downs were indicted for rape. A girl under 16 years of age was the alleged victim on December 1, 1955.

News from the State Capitol

Illinois Department of Agriculture statistics show less than half a horse—actually about .38 of a horse—quartered on the average Illinois farm. In 1913 there were six horses to an average farm, not counting mules and ponies. At that time there were a million and a half horses alone, plowing the fields and being used for heavy work on 245,000 farms.

The number of horses is so slight nowadays that the statisticians lump horses, mules, shetland ponies, riding horses and show horses into one total. The figure was about 71,000 in 1956, an estimated 177,000 farms.

At the end of the current construction season, no pilot over the state of Illinois will be more than 40 miles from a lighted concrete or blacktop airport, according to Arthur E. Abney, director of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics.

But the director states that the advent of the jet transport, which will begin to see service in a year and a half on America's domestic routes, will also necessitate longer runways. At present, the United States has only seven airports at which unrestricted jet transport use is possible. The one in Illinois is Chicago's O'Hare field.

Illinois has three times as many civil airplanes as Great Britain and nine times as many civil pilots, according to other figures released by the department.

Governor William G. Stratton predicts that Illinois' new college scholarship program will increase enrollments at private higher institutions of learning in the state.

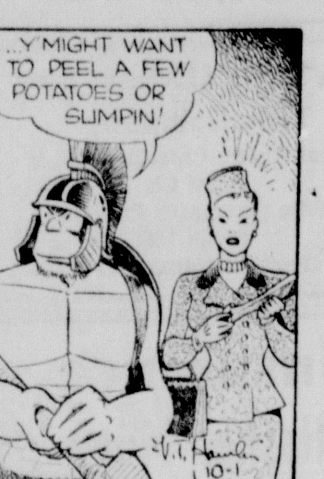

The governor discussed the new scholarship program which he signed into law two months ago in a speech delivered at the golden anniversary celebration of Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee. Under terms of the act, $600,000 is set aside for scholarships ranging up to $600 each for deserving high school students to attend the college or university of their choice, private or public.

Counties with organized full-time health departments have the machinery to cope with health exigencies of almost any kind, Dr. Roland R. Cross, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said.

He termed the local full-time health department the "best instrument of government" to deal with many public health problems.

Dr. Cross pointed out that public health, like police and fire department services, is evaluated in large part by what doesn't happen. "Who can say," he remarked, "how many cases of diseases or disease outbreaks an alert health department prevents."

Movement to Raise Pigs for Bald Knob Cross Is Expanding, Presley Reports

The movement among farmers to grow a pig to help build the Bald Knob Cross is rapidly expanding according to Wayman Presley of Makanda.

It all started when Old Betsy, the now famous sow belonging to widow Myrta Clutts of Cobden, farrowed 21 pigs for the project. Beginning with this litter 16 months ago, southern Illinois farmers have multiplied them into more than 500. They took one of the little sow pigs and raised another litter which in turn were distributed to other farmers and so on.

When wet weather last spring greatly reduced the corn crop in lower Illinois, Presley shifted the pig program to the central part of the state where there is a near-normal crop. He states that so many farmers there are willing to raise one that alst week fencing was begun on the widow's little farm which will put her entire 20 acres into the breeding pens.

When sows now on various farms farrow, their pigs will be distributed upstate for fattening. The sows will be taken to the farm. "This will save lots of time and work," said Presley. Under this new plan, only feeders will be distributed.

He said that four out of five farmers up state are donating pigs of their own. "This will give us five times as many hogs as we can produce on Myrta's farm," he went on. "With a hundred sows on the farm, we should be really in high gear." The foundation now has high hopes that building of the Cross can begin even before 1960.

The hundreds of families raising pigs are being invited to a get-together on Bald Knob Sunday, Oct. 20. Some 50 farmers in the Harrisburg area are cooperating.

WARNING!

Any life insurance agent who recommends the cancellation of a permanent plan of insurance is not only violating the Illinois Insurance Dept. laws, but ethics of the life insurance profession as well.

In addition, any agent who does this is taking advantage of the insured for his own selfish interest, in the form of first year commission.

In the event you are approached with such a proposal, we suggest that you write direct to the company with which you are now insured for a reasonable explanation. The policy you now hold is much better than one which such a person might attempt to sell you, because you are now older, and your present policy has probably passed the contestible period which is in all policies written in Illinois.

WILL STAND ON HIS STATEMENT—Governor Orval Faubus tells newsmen during a press conference at Little Rock that "I will stand on my statement of yesterday." Faubus made it clear that he is determined not to alter the language of his declaration on the integration situation at Little Rock's Central High School. President Eisenhower refused to withdraw Federal troops from the city saying that Governor Faubus' statement on the situation was not strong enough. (NEA Telephoto)

Teamsters Defy AFL-CIO

Delegates are Ready to Elect Hoffa President

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Teamsters Union delegates appeared certain today to defy AFL-CIO cleanup orders and elect James R. Hoffa their new president.

The vote, which will put the parent AFL-CIO on the spot to make good its ouster threats, could come today but may be delayed by other business.

The final roadblock to Hoffa's overwhelming election to succeed Dave Beck was brushed aside Wednesday night when the defiant convention voted to toss in the wastebasket corruption charges by the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee. Also voted down was a move to make the ballot secret which would have helped anti-Hoffa forces and an AFL-CIO recommendation that officers' terms be limited to four years.

The lopsided vote to ignore accusations in a report by the Ethical Practices Committee of the parent union almost insured that the AFL-CIO would boot out the Teamsters in December. The Teamsters defiance to the AFL-CIO is certain to bring action at the federation's Atlantic City, N.J. convention then. On the first test of strength at the convention here, Hoffa backers outnumbered their opponents by a five-to-one margin. The delegates listened to the report, a blistering indictment of Hoffa, outgoing President Dave Beck and other top officials for more than two hours. They seemed bored by it all.

Then in rapid fire action, they thundered a mighty "no" to suggestions that the union investigate the charges. An overwhelming "aye" wiped the report from the convention record moments later.

Beck and Teamsters Vice President Frank Brewster were accused of misusing thousands of dollars in union funds in the report. Beck did not make a formal defense but said he would answer charges in court. He is indicted on charges of evading federal income tax.

Issue Four Oil Drilling Permits

Four oil well drilling permits for operations in Saline county have been issued at Springfield as follows:

To Breuer and Curran Oil Co., Chicago, for the Westbrook No. 1, SEC NW SE, 9-8s-7e (Eldorado);

To C. E. Brehm Drilling and Producing Co., Mt. Vernon, Ill., for the G. R. Johnson "A" No. 3, SWC SE SW, 20-8s-5e (Tate);

To Walter L. Day, Marion, for the Empson No. 1, NEC SE, 29-8s-5e (Tate);

To the Texas Company, Tulsa, Okla., for the R. J. Karnes No. 1, SEC NE NW, 9-8s-6e (Raleigh)

Teachers' Institute Speaker Is Distinguished Pulpit Orator, Author

Dr. Preston Bradley, who will speak during both morning and afternoon sessions of the Saline County Teachers Institute at Harrisburg Friday, has written eight books, two of which, "Courage for Today" and "Mastering Fear," have been best sellers.

His latest book, "Happiness Through Creative Living," was third on the best-seller list two weeks after publication.

Dr. Bradley, minister of the Peoples Church of Chicago, largest non-sectarian church in the country, will speak on "You Control Your Future" at 10:45 a. m. and "Where Are We Going in World Affairs" at 2 p. m.

The public is invited to hear Dr. Bradley's talk.

The featured speaker, one of the most sought-after speakers in the Midwest, has frequently been referred to as one of the five most distinguished pulpit orators in America. He gives more than 200 lectures a year and is booked for more than a year in advance.

Besides his speaking career, Dr. Bradley has been a member of the State Prison Investigation committee, has served longer than any other person as member of the board of directors of the Chicago Public Library and today is chairman of the Library committee which buys every book that goes into the Chicago Public Library.

As an orator Dr. Bradley is recognized throughout the nation and probably has more friends among the Jewish people, the Roman Catholic church and all branches of Protestantism than any other minister in the Chicago pulpit.

He has crossed the Atlantic for times and spends a part of each summer speaking and preaching in Europe.

To Exchange Views

Dulles, Gromyko to Confer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will attempt to smoke out Soviet intentions on disarmament and the Middle East when he confers this week end with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Administration officials said to day the two topics head the list of world issues expected to come up at the Dulles-Gromyko meeting.

The State Department announced Wednesday night Dulles had invited Gromyko to come to Washington Saturday afternoon for an "exchange of views on various international issues of concern to both the United States and the USSR."

At Dulles' Home

The meeting will be held at Dulles' home on the edge of mansion-lined Rock Creek Park. An aide said Dulles "likes to stay home and work on Saturdays" so he decided to have the four Russian visit him there.

State Department officials said no international emergency prompted Dulles' invitation. They also said Dulles does not have any

Troops Will Remain Unless Faubus Changes His Stand: Eisenhower

Boost Corn Price Support to $1.40 Bu.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has raised price supports on corn to $1.40 per bushel.

The department also boosted supports for grain sorghums to $1.86 per hundred-weight.

The new corn rate is 4 cents higher than the support announced before the planting season and the grain sorghum rate is 3 cents higher.

The increases were ordered because the parity price on which supports are based has been raised by an increase in farm expenses.

Wilson Leaves Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces flex their might in a farewell salute today to their boss for the past five years, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

The 67-year-old industrialist who has presided over revolutionary new developments in American military power will review marching troops from all the service-while guns boom and jets whoosh overhead in the special afternoon ceremony at nearby Ft. Myer, Va.

Secretaries of the armed forces and the joint chiefs of staff are staging the mustering out tribute. Wilson leaves management of the world's biggest business, the $38 billion-dollar-a-year defense establishment Wednesday. He will be succeeded by Proctor & Gamble President Neil H. McElroy.

President Eisenhower personally acclaimed Wilson's leadership. He said under him "the strength of our security forces has not only been maintained but has been significantly increased."

Autos Collide at Webster, Lincoln

Chief of Police Ross Lane today reported that cars driven by Mrs. Marsha McGuire and "Tubby" Guley, 16, both of Harrisburg, collided at Webster and Lincoln streets about 8:45 a. m.

Mrs. McGuire, who suffered from shock, was taken to a doctor for treatment, Lane stated. There was considerable damage to her car and the Guley auto was a total loss, he added, stating the machine landed bottom upward following the collision.

Sister-In-Law of Mrs. Gus Syers Dies

Mrs. Gus Syers, 503 South McKinley, Harrisburg, has received word of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lee Caldwell, sister of the late Gus and Jake Syers, died late Wednesday in Sturgis, Ky.

Rites Saturday For Leo Lanton

The funeral of Leo Lanton, 59, Carrier Mills, who died in an automobile crash near Thompsonville, Tuesday, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Lake View Baptist church. The body will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills until the funeral time. Burial will be in the Lake View church cemetery.

Gov. Faubus Says He Is Willing To Negotiate

Will Not Agree To Unconditional Surrender to Ike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he is willing to negotiate further with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock school integration crisis but he will not agree to a "complete and unconditional surrender."

Faubus told a news conference that he would be glad to have further talks with Eisenhower "on a basis of mutual trust and self respect."

A reporter asked him if he felt that such an attitude prevailed at this time.

Faubus retorted: "I do not."

"I think they want me to do the same thing that Eisenhower did when he demanded complete and unconditional surrender of the Germans," he said.

"I'm not going to completely give up the powers of governor of the state. Far more is involved than Little Rock and the powers of a chief executive. It affects every state in the Union," Faubus said.

"They may come and take over as they have done, but I will not give up the powers of chief executive of my own volition."

He was asked what he believed must be done to relieve the present stalemate.

He said he had "no expression" on that "at the moment."

Did he see any possibility of a settlement within the next several days.

"There is always a possibility," he said. "But I do not see any probability."

Faubus was standing pat on his declaration Tuesday night in which he told Eisenhower that Federal Court integration orders will not be obstructed "by me."

Faubus emphasized his position in a news conference Wednesday. He said furthermore that he would not use National Guardsmen, if federal troops were withdrawn, to keep order inside Central High School.

Faubus also announced that he expects more violence if federal troops are pulled out. That was one thing which convinced President Eisenhower that he had done the right thing.

Mrs. Catlin In Full Charge Alaska Hospital For 2-Month Period

Mrs. Mabel Catlin, formerly of Harrisburg, now superintendent of the M.M.M. hospital in Nome, Alaska, had practically the full responsibility of the hospital operating without a resident doctor for a two months' period ending in September. Dr. William Woodcock, Hot Springs, Ark., arrived the week of Sept. 16, to replace Dr. Fred Langsam who had left the hospital in July. During the interval between, Mrs. Catlin kept a constant vigil and alerted doctors to serious cases, ever sending patients to other hospitals as their need for doctors was evident.

Dr. Woodcock expressed his appreciation of her efforts.

Paratroopers Back On Job

50 White Students Walk Out at Central High; Burn Effigy Figure

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—About 50 white students walked out of Central High School today and burned an effigy figure of a Negro student in an organized demonstration against integration.

A heavily reinforced troop guard promptly broke up the demonstration, dispersed the small crowd, and erected blockades to seal off the street in front of the high school.

The demonstration fell far short of the "mass walkout" of hundreds of white students which segregationist groups, including the so-called "Central High Mothers' League," had sought to organize.

The vast majority of the nearly 2,000 students enrolled at Central High were sitting quietly in classes. School officials had warned in advance that anyone participating in the walkout would automatically be expelled.

Paratroopers on Duty

The demonstration took place about 9:10 a. m., less than an hour after nine Negro students had been escorted into the school under the heaviest armed guard since the first day of integration last Wednesday.

Tough paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division were back on the job, inside and outside the school, reinforcing members of the federalized Arkansas National Guard.

A crowd of about 100 white students, who did not go to school today, gathered on the sidewalk of Park Street, facing the school, as the bell rang for classes to begin. They were joined by a few white adults, about 20 or 30 in all.

When the home room period ended shortly after 9 a. m., students began to trickle out of the school. There were boys and girls walking in small groups. Reporters estimated about 50 of them.

A few more white students came to the door of the main entrance, hesitated, and turned back inside. Screams of "Come on out, chickens!" came from the crowd across the street.

One boy who walked out was promptly nabbed by his mother who hustled him back to class.

The student demonstrators produced a dummy figure, clad in blue jeans and a sweat shirt, with a black face.

They strung it up with a rope from a tree in front of the school. One white boy kicked viciously at the effigy figure as it was hung. Others emptied cans of cigarette lighter fluid on the dummy, and set it afire.

Ernest W. Read, 64, of Wasson community, RFD 4, Harrisburg, died in the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg at 2:30 a. m. today. The body is in the care of the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado, and the funeral will be held in the chapel there at 2 p. m. Saturday. Rev. Delmar Feazel of Raleigh will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Mr. Read had been in failing health for two years and in a critical condition for the past week. He was a retired farmer, a veteran of World War I and past commander of American Legion Post 169, Eldorado. He was a member of the Union Grove Baptist church.

He is survived by his wife, Grace Bramlet Read, his daughter Mrs. Rae (Lucy) McConnell, his brother Earl Read, St. Louis, Mo., his half brother Arthur Read, Raleigh, and his granddaughter, Ora Rae McConnell.

Henry Armes, 76, Dies at Galatia

Henry Armes, 76, a former resident of Thompsonville, died in the Good Shepherd nursing home at Galatia Wednesday night. The body will lie in state at the Court-nex funeral home in Galatia until the funeral Saturday. The funeral services will be held in the County Line church south of Thompsonville and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Armes is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Anna Drott of Thompsonville, his granddaughter, Irma Dell Vick, Johnston City and three great grandchildren.

Boy Awarded $135,000

CHICAGO (AP)—An attorney, with the aid of an elaborate scale model of the Illinois Central Railroad yard, has won a $135,000 damage award for a boy who lost both his legs when he was run over by a train.

The judgment in favor of Lawrence Burrell, 9, East St. Louis, was entered late Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Courtney who heard the case without a jury.

Mrs. Willie Heard Burrell, the boy's mother, had sued for $200,000 on behalf of her son. Mrs. Burrell has six other children.

Attorney John J. Kennelly, using a $2,000 scale model of the IC yards at East St. Louis, showed the route Lawrence took across the yard to reach a playground when he was struck by a switch engine in 1953.

Kennelly claimed children continually used the tracks to get to the playground in the absence of a better route and the railroad was negligent in not providing lookouts or warnings.

Railroad lawyers charged the boy was a trespasser on IC property.

Inquest Monday in

Death of Randall Davis Jr.

Saline County Deputy Coroner Ralph Bean will hold an inquest into the death of Randall Davis Jr., 32, at the city hall in Eldorado at 7:30 p. m. Monday. Mr. Davis, a resident of Christopher, was fatally injured Wednesday when he was apparently run over by his own truck while driving for the Triangle Construction Co. on the new Illinois highway 141. Mr. Davis died in an Eldorado hospital two hours later.

Along Skyline Drive

First of Four Autumn Color Tours Will Be Held Sunday, Oct. 6

The first of four Sunday Auto Autumn Color Tours, along the Skyline Drive of the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail of Southern Illinois is listed for Sunday, Oct. 6.

Other tours are scheduled for succeeding Sundays, Oct. 13, Oct. 20 and Oct. 27. All tours are to begin at 10 a. m.

Those planning to participate in the tours are to bring their picnic lunch and hiking clothes are recommended.

A period of the tour will be reserved for religious meditation.

The section of Southern Illinois in the area of the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail has been widely publicized by the Ozark Tours, started in 1931 by the late L. O. Trigg, Eldorado newspaper publisher. After Mr. Trigg's death the tours have been continued by William H. Farley, Wayman Presley, L. A. Deering, Arch Voight, Irvin Pettman, John Allen and many others devoted to the cause of bringing attention of the public to the scenic and historical attractions of Southern Illinois.

Sunday's tour will start from the filling station at the intersection of Route 3 and Grand Tower Road, with Joe Dillon of Christopher and Arch Voight of Du Quoin as the leaders.

Points of interest to be visited include Devil's Backbone Park, Pine Hills and Scenic Drive, Clear Springs Picnic area, Pomona Natural Bridge, Cove Hollow and Bald Knob.

The Sunday, Oct. 13, tour will start from the Texaco station in Cobden and automobiles are to be parked facing east along the black top street. Louis Martin of Benton and D. A. Purdy, Du Quoin, will lead the tour.

Kerr Bluff, Panther Den, Draper and Cedar Bluffs, Scout Cave, Camp Pakeantuck (Boy Scouts of America), and Jackson's Hollow will be visited.

The Sunday, Oct. 20, tour will start from the intersection of Routes 145 and 34, southeast edge of Harrisburg, with Louis Aaron and John Foster, both of Harrisburg, leaders.

Points to be visited are Bell Smith Springs, Burden Falls, Stone Arch Bluff, Hayes Canyon, Lusk Creek, Canyon and Williams Hill.

The Sunday, Oct. 27, tour also will leave from the southeast edge of Harrisburg at the intersection of Routes 145 and 34 and leaders for the tour will be L. A. Deering, Arthur LaSalle and A. G. Packwood, all of Mt. Vernon.

On this final Sunday of October the tour will visit Old Stone Face, Garden of the Gods, High Knob, Pounds Hollow and Lake, Illinois Furnace and Seven Caves.

10 Men Named in Indictments in Gallatin County

A special Gallatin county grand jury in session Thursday and Friday returned true bills against 10 men. The charges include murder, rape, forgery, and burglary and larceny.

Donald Ray Mears and his brothers, Hallas and Robert Mears, were indicted for the shotgun murder of Vincent York at New Haven on July 19. Donald is being held in the county jail without bond. The bail of Hallas and Robert was fixed at $20,000 each by Circuit Judge Roy O. Gulley.

Omar Barger Jr. and John Nelson were indicted for burglary and larceny in connection with the assault on and taking by force from Robert Parish on June 16, $40 in money, a pocket knife, cigarette lighter, Elgin pocket watch and Chevrolet automobile with a total value of $367. Bond was fixed at $2,500 each.

Paul Nelson was indicted for forgery. He allegedly on December 19, 1956, made or counterfeited a check to himself in the amount of $5.00, forging the signature of Adrian Fralley. The check, drawn on the First National Bank of Shawneetown, was cashed at the Shawnee service station. Nelson's bond was fixed at $2,000.

Robert Filligan and Kenneth Earl Koker were indicted for burglary and larceny. They allegedly on May 15, 1957, entered the house of Burle Griffin, formerly used as a dwelling house, and carried away a tool box, set of wrenches, 200 gallons of gasoline, 8 buckets, and 20 gallons of motor oil, with a total value of $75. Their bonds were set at $1,500 each.

Valentino Gene Lucercenz and James William Downs were indicted for rape. A girl under 16 years of age was the alleged victim on December 1, 1955.

News from the State Capitol

Illinois Department of Agriculture statistics show less than half a horse—actually about 38 of a horse—quartered on the average Illinois farm. In 1913 there were six horses to an average farm, not counting mules and ponies. At that time there were a million and a half horses alone, plowing the fields and being used for heavy work on 245,000 farms.

The number of horses is so slight nowadays that the statisticians lump horses, mules, shetland ponies, riding horses and show horses into one total. The figure was about 71,000 in 1956, an estimated 177,000 farms.

At the end of the current construction season, no pilot over the state of Illinois will be more than 40 miles from a lighted concrete or blacktop airport, according to Arthur E. Abney, director of the Illinois Department of Aeronautics.

But the director states that the advent of the jet transport, which will begin to see service in a year and a half on America's domestic routes, will also necessitate longer runways. At present, the United States has only seven airports at which unrestricted jet transport use is possible. The one in Illinois is Chicago's O'Hare field.

Illinois has three times as many civil airplanes as Great Britain and nine times as many civil pilots, according to other figures released by the department.

Governor William G. Stratton predicts that Illinois' new college scholarship program will increase enrollments at private higher institutions of learning in the state.

The governor discussed the new scholarship program which he signed into law two months ago in a speech delivered at the golden anniversary celebration of Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee. Under terms of the act, $600,000 is set aside for scholarships ranging up to $600 each for deserving high school students to attend the college or university of their choice, private or public.

Counties with organized full-time health departments have the machinery to cope with health exigencies of almost any kind, Dr. Roland R. Cross, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said.

He termed the local full-time health department the "best instrument of government" to deal with many public health problems.

Dr. Cross pointed out that public health, like police and fire department services, is evaluated in large part by what doesn't happen. "Who can say," he remarked, "how many cases of diseases or disease outbreaks an alert health department prevents?"

McSparin-Brooks Marriage Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lee Brooks

Miss Alice Joan McSparin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Lee McSparin, Stonefort, became the bride of Ronald Lee Brooks of Alton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 7 in the Main Street Methodist church at Alton. Rev. Paul Brown performed the double-ring marriage ceremony before the altar decorated with ferns and tall stand vases of gladioli and greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of waterfall taffeta, styled in the princess fashion with a V neckline and long sleeves pointed at the hands. Her skirt swept in a graceful line to the floor. The gown was made by her mother. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length, edged with lace and was secured to a headdress of tuberose. She carried a white orchid with lily of the valley streamers on her white Bible and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Carolyn Joyce McSparin, sister of the bride, was her attendant and wore a ballerina length dress of blue taffeta. She wore a strand of pearls, the gift of the bride and carried a spray of carnations. The junior bridesmaid, Sandra Sue McSparin, sister of the bride, also wore blue taffeta and carried carnations.

Flower girl, Francine Brooks, sister of the bridegroom, wore a I.O.O.A. Holds Meeting In Carrier Mills Community Park

The Illinois Office Organization Association of HTHS held its regular meeting in the Carrier Mills community park on Sept. 24. This was a wiener roast and picnic supper meeting and the hostess was Mrs. Guy Hunter, supervisor.

Following the supper, there was a brief business meeting during which the dues were collected.

Attending were: Mary Schwartz, Linda Schwartz, Mary Jane Mullinix, Kathleen Howton, Ruth Ganz, Sandra Duke, Pat Harris, Joanne Chambers, Darlene Abney, Harriet Kelley, Carole Cable, Mary Langford, Barbara Travelstead, Dorothy Waddell, Frieda Winters, Judy Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. James Parkhurst and Stevie Mr and Mrs Guy Hunter and Nancy

replica of the junior bridesmaid's dress and carried a basket of pom poms and rose petals.

George Brooks, brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man and the junior groomsmen were Jerry Smith, cousin of the bride. The ring bearer was David McSparin, brother of the bride.

The ushers were Harland Smith, cousin of the bride, and Riley Read, friend of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue sheath dress with bracelet sleeves, accented with white collar and cuffs. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a dark gray dress for her son's wedding, with pink accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. William Eckelman, organist, played nuptial music and accompanied Bob Denbey as he sang "Through the Years," "Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

There was a reception immediately following the wedding in the church social rooms, decorated with blue and white wedding bells and streamers. Blue candles were placed on the bride's table where the wedding cake held the place of honor.

Following their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are at home to their friends at 3529B Framor street, Alton.

The bride was graduated from the Carrier Mills high school and from the Nursing school of Alton Memorial hospital in September of this year.

Mr Brooks was graduated from Alton high school and is a book keeper at the Alton Banking and Trust company.

Cornelia Leavel Circle Holds Installation Service

The Cornelia Leavel circle of the First Baptist church held its regular Royal Service program in the educational building, Tuesday evening. The meeting started with a dinner and the tables were gala with fall flowers and matching napkins. Booklets, representing windows, opened to reveal the program and served as place cards. Mrs. Jesse Wiley asked the blessing before the meal.

Mrs. Susie Boarman, president-elect, presided at the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Edna Lewis, who is in a St. Louis, Mo., hospital. Mrs. Thelma Josey read the minutes and reports of the chairmen of standing committees and were heard.

The circle is named for a missionary in Hawaii. Some of the circles rotate names as they rotate their members, but Cornelia Leavel circle voted to retain her name. The group voted to send a gift to this missionary soon. Special prayers are offered for her often.

Special prayer was offered for Mrs. Edna Lewis, led by Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf, and the members signed a get-well card to send to her. Mrs. Lewis, president for two years, was sent a gift of appreciation for her service.

Mrs. Thelma Josey, program chairman, represented a door keeper and topics were presented as doors, opened by their readers, and were as follows: "A Cobbler's Shop," Mrs. Jesse Wiley; "The Door of Heritage," Mrs. Hazel Day; "The Door of the Present," Mrs. Millicent Guard; "The Door of Opportunity," Mrs. Susie Boarman; "The Door of Responsibility," Mrs. Mildred Ingle; and "Doors Open Wide," Mrs. Dorothy McDaniel.

Following the topics, Mrs. Clayton Humphrey was introduced as the installing officer. Each officer was installed separately as follows: Mrs. Susie Boarman, president; Mrs. Thelma Josey, vice-president; Mrs. Odell Doom, program chairman; Miss Sara Cole, stewardship chairman; Mrs. Pavah Whiteside, secretary; Mrs. Harriet Land, treasurer; Mrs. Amsey Miley, Mission study chairman; Mrs. Fannie Rich, community missions; Mrs. Millicent Guard, publicity chairman; Mrs. Edna Lewis, youth director; Mrs. Mary Musgrave, prayer chairman; Mrs. Gertrude White, flower chairman; Mrs. Mildred Ingle, pianist; and Mrs. Laverne Clayton, chorister.

Mrs. Humphrey closed the ceremony with prayer. She was given a potted plant in appreciation for her fine installation service.

Other visitors were Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf and Mrs. Beverly Butler.

The November meeting will be planned by Mrs. Millicent Guard and the hostesses will be Mrs. Amsey Miley and Mrs. Harriet Land.

Mr and Mrs Mearl Guard, Dorris Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettv, have returned from a two weeks' tour of the Eastern states. They visited Fredericksburg, Williamsburg and James town, Va., and Washington, D. C., where they were entertained by a cousin's family, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gibson. Mr. Gibson was assistant secretary of labor under the late President Roosevelt. He took them deep sea fishing off of the Delaware coast, where they report many fine catches, and to Virginia Beach. Returning they toured Philadelphia, drove on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and visited with Mr and Mrs David Guard, their son's family, who live at Pontiac, Ill.

Beta Kappa Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi

The Beta Kappa chapter, Beta Sigma Phi began its rush season with a "Suppressed Desire" party, each guest attending in the costume of her desire. The party was held in the Bill Beazley home and was planned by rush captain, Mrs. James Henderson, and her committee members, Mrs. John Hill and Mrs. Doug Ewell.

Rushes were introduced as they arrived and the costumes were judged. Awards for the best costumes went to Mrs. Victor Humm and Mrs. Roger Taylor. Bingo winners were Mrs. Hilliary Humm, Mrs. Rupert Bing and Mrs. Bill Brashears. Frozen dessert and coffee were served.

Guests attending were member adviser, Mrs. Victor Humm, and rushes, Mrs. Bill Hart, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. Gail Travelstead, Mrs. Richard Ford, Mrs. Charles Shingler, Mrs. Otis Reynolds Jr., Mrs. Rupert Bing, Mrs. Bruce McGuire, Mrs. Roger Taylor, Mrs. Andy Tempco, Mrs. Hilliary Humm, and Miss Helen Stankunas. Members attending were as follows: Mrs. Marvin Barnett, Mrs. Bill Brashears, Mrs. William Burroughs, Mrs. Richard Davenport, Mrs. David Flota, Mrs. Donald Hughes, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. J. B. Morse, Mrs. Gene Neihaus, Mrs. William Prusaczyk and Mrs. Lowell Vaughn.

Hostesses were Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Douglas Ewell and Mrs. Bill Beazley.

Mrs. Walter Hickman, 1014 E. State street, was taken to the Harrisburg hospital at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, suffering from a heart condition, apparently brought on by a recent illness with influenza. Mrs. Hickman is on the second floor, and is being kept quiet, so that rest may improve her condition.

More coal is produced annually by auger mining in Harrison County than in any other coal county in America. This total has been running to nearly a million tons a year.

The Crescent Unit Home Bureau

The Crescent unit of the Saline county Home Bureau met in the home of Mrs. Hilda White, Thursday evening. Roll call was answered with the payment of dues. The major lesson, "Arranging Flowers, Twigs, Shrubs and Leaves," was presented by Mrs. White, who displayed many beautiful flower arrangements. Mrs. Wilma Ervin gave the minor lesson, "Removing Spots From Upholstery."

Members present were: Mrs. June Gibbons, Mrs. Mary Piper, Mrs. Wanda Taylor, Mrs. Shirley Shewmake, Mrs. Betty R. Jarrell, Mrs. Nora Keneipp, Mrs. Vivian Harris, Mrs. Jane Brown, Mrs. Wilma Ervin, Mrs. Norma Carpenter, Mrs. Regina Skelley, Mrs. Lorrie Lands, Mrs. Betty C. Jarrell and Mrs. Leatta Price. Visitors were Mrs. Andrew Salus and Virginia Smith.

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Shirley Shewmake and Mrs. June Gibbons. The October meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Jane Ervin.

The Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Taylor will be celebrated with an open house reception in their home from 2-5 p. m. Sunday. Their friends and neighbors are invited to attend.

The Saline Stamp and Coin club will meet Sunday, Oct. 6, at 2 p. m. in the dining room of the Little Egypt cafe opposite the Orpheum theatre in Harrisburg.

There will be a regular meeting of Egyptian Shrine No. 56, Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, to night at 8:30 at the Masonic temple. Ruby Hilliard, W.H.P.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Refugee Camp Near Jericho Crumples Morale As Its Walls Once Crumpled: Refugees Demand To Return To Israel; Politicians Keep The Issue Red Hot.

JERICHO, JORDAN.—Just outside this ancient city whose walls crumpled when Joshua blew seven times on seven trumpets is one of the great festering trouble-spots of the Near East.

The city of Jericho is without walls today. It sprawls out at the northern tip of the Dead Sea, 1,300 feet below sea level, where the Jordan river pours its fresh water into a body of water that is so salty fish cannot live. For miles around, the shore is pure salt crystal.

It's hot alongside the Dead Sea, stifling hot. But between Jericho and the sea is a camp of 35,000 refugees, fled from Israel during the Arab attack of 1948. They now clamor to go back. And their clamor, plus that of other refugees, constitutes the most upsetting political force in this upset part of the world.

These are the poor refugees, not the doctors, lawyers, and professional men who have contributed greatly to the Arab states.

I drove out from Jericho to the camp. It is constructed of mud brick houses similar to those I helped build for Montenegrin refugees made homeless by the Austrian army after World War I. They are good houses, still standing in Yugoslavia, and those near Jericho are good houses too.

The chief difference is that these refugees don't work. The American Friends Service committee in Yugoslavia operated on the rule: "No work, no eat." We provided work. But the Arab refugees in Jordan either can't get work, are not supplied work, or don't want to work. In Lebanon they are not permitted by law to work.

"GET THE TRAITOR!"

An exception is Musa Alami. Near Jericho he drilled a well struck water, started a truck farm. He raised chickens, installed a refrigeration plant, planted bananas, and soon operated a thriving business, hauling his produce to American Oil Company employees in Saudi Arabia.

But one day last spring, when Jordan was seething against the West, the refugees at Jericho decided to take out their vengeance on one of their own number. Storming down the road to Musa Alami's farm, yelling "get the traitor!" they destroyed his refrigeration plants, and wrung the necks of 35,000 chickens.

Musa had employed at times as many as 1,200 refugees. However, he made the fatal mistake of accepting the permanency of his residence in Jordan. He had sent down new roots in his adopted country, had given up the idea of returning to Israel. This is what made him a traitor.

During the nine years the refugees have been sitting in heat and idleness at the head of the Dead Sea, they have built up a burning passionate hate. They hate Israel and they hate Britain and the United States which have befriended Israel. Fanatic Arab leaders have used this as a weapon. Moderate Arab leaders have bowed to it because they are prisoners. Bitterness has become too strong. It was one reason the British and Glubb Pasha were kicked out of Jordan and why Jordan spent three days this year celebrating the anniversary of his exit. It's also why, Jordan, while accepting American arms, will not accept an American military mission to help them use those arms.

WOULD THEY GO BACK?

Moderate Arab leaders will tell you privately that if the refugees were given a chance to go back to Israel, only a handful would go back. They claim, however, that Israel must make the gesture of inviting them back, in order to "save face" for the refugees.

The United Nations, meanwhile, has been doing a superhuman job of sitting on this explosive lid. Without the meagre $27 a year the UNRWA spends to keep the refugees alive they would have precipitated war by marching across the border into Israel en masse.

The UN staff is among the best in this part of the world. But they know they face superhuman political obstacles until the basic problem is solved.

There are millions of refugees in other parts of the world—from Communist Indo-China to Free Indo-China, from India and Pakistan, from Germany, Poland, and Egypt to Israel, from Hungary all over the world. In most of these cases the refugees do not return to their former homes. They are resettled.

But in the Arab countries, they have been permitted to ferment in camps for nine years as a weapon of political hate.

The river Jordan as it flows into the Dead Sea is only 50 feet wide. But in terms of progress it is 500 years wide.

When the prophet Joshua crossed the Jordan in the days when the walls of Jericho were still standing he was endowed with the divine power to make the Jordan stand still.

I could not help but think as I crossed the Jordan that if the 35,000 refugees sitting in the heat of Jericho had worked at it, they too could have made the river Jordan stand still. In nine years they could have built a great irrigation project which would have turned the barren wastes around them into green fields. Instead they have sat in bitterness and filth while the fresh waters of the Jordan continue flowing into the brine of the Dead Sea.

Bridge Receipts Total $230,236 First 15 Months

Total toll collections for the first 15 months of operation of the bridge at Shawneetown were $230,236.45, the Kentucky State Highway Department report, reveals its greatest income was produced in August when it took in $19,634.75.

Collections by months since the bridge was opened have been reported as follows:

1956: June, $18,193.60; July, $19,499.50; August, $18,370.23; September, $14,742; October, $13,923.50; November, $12,639.10; December, $12,619.

1957: January, $10,431.50; February, $12,316.50; March, $12,642.75; April, $15,655.75; May, $13,622.75; June, $16,810.50; July, $19,135; August, $19,634.75.

THE Skelgas STARLIGHT RANGE with THERMAL-EYE BURNER CONTROL and CLOCK-CONTROLLED OVEN

MODEL SK-1497C

You're paying too much attention to your cooking! Now there's no need for "pot watching." The Skelgas Thermal-Eye burner lets you select the "just right" heat for each dish—can't burn food or make it stick to the cooking utensil. Just set the control and let your meal cook itself! The same goes for baking with this Skelgas range, too. Set the clock control and forget it—come back to perfectly done cooking every time. You'll enjoy your food much more when you don't have the old-fashioned worry of preparing it.

World Wide Communion Sunday at First Presbyterian Church

On Sunday, Oct. 6, the First Presbyterian church will join with millions of other Protestant congregations to celebrate World Wide Communion Sunday. This annual observance began in 1937 upon call of the Presbyterian church. The idea was endorsed by the National Council of Churches in 1940 and now has spread to more than fifty countries. It is a tangible sign of the yearning toward unity and cooperation among Christian bodies.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)
The softness of a kindly human voice can herald loud praise of God before the silent crowds of those who wait for a witness. The words one speaks are powerful in their influence on humankind. The words of Christ have been ringing in the ears of men for nearly 2,000 years. All of us share in His power to pass along the word of God to those who seek. The lonely, the discouraged and the sorrowful need our words of kindness, understanding and sympathy. The sinful, the hateful and the selfish need our words of conviction. We must not destroy men with our voices, but we must challenge them to repent and seek the higher way through life. It is not the thunder of the voice but the sincerity and conviction of its tone which carries our words to the hearts of our fellow men.

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

THE STORY: Sarah Casement believes someone was in the studio of Grant Melville just before the artist fell four floors to his death. No one will believe Sarah and in order to prove to herself that she saw someone through the window, she volunteers to help the widow do Melville's biography. There are several applicants for the job.

IV Sarah went through the indicated door and closed it behind her. The room was a formal living room. The portrait of Melville hung over the mantel. It was a self-portrait. The dead painter gazed out, palette in one hand, knife in the other. He was smiling a little. His lips, red lips, were slightly parted. It wasn't the

the floor. A man was seated at the desk, working with a sheaf of papers. His back was toward her, a recognizable back with narrow, sloping shoulders. It was Mr. Dennert, the man with the unhappy hat, the man who had been dismissed with finality at least 20 minutes earlier. Dennert finished with his task which appeared to be the search of the desk. He put the papers back in an open drawer, closed the drawer, pushed back the chair, got up—and saw Sarah. "Oh . . . ah . . . Good morning," he said. There was a door that led directly into the hall. Mr. Dennert started for it. Watching him move, Sarah remembered where she had seen him before. "Wait," she said crisply. "You were outside this house on the day Mr. Melville was killed." Dennert halted. He looked at her kindly. "My dear young lady, I—don't know what you mean. Outside this house?" "You were outside this house," Sarah repeated. "Shortly before Grant Melville died. You were the floor, had made no explanation whatever of what he was doing at Melville's desk. Gillespie came strolling toward her. His jangling dark eyes were bright and intent. It was an aloof face, she thought, sophisticated and strong and intelligent, but aloof. "Cigarette?" he offered a pack to her. She shook her head. He lit one leisurely and said through smoke, "It seems as though you and I are the pick of the field. Miss Dolwin's getting her dismissal now. How did you come to see that fellow Dennert outside this house on the day Melville died?" So he had heard. His glance was penetrating. A thread of fear stirred in Sarah. "I had been visiting a friend who lives near here and was waiting for a cab. I had to wait a long time." "On the corner of University and Tenth?" "That's right." "You evidently don't know the neighborhood very well. You should have gone over to Fifth. It's just a block and there are all plenty of cabs there. Were you down there in the street when Melville fell?" Sarah reflected that Mr. Gillespie wanted to know rather a lot and wasn't timid about asking, but under no circumstances could she call him a timid man. "I saw the crowd, and heard what had happened," and put a question of her own pleasantly. "Were you down there in the street that day? Did you see the accident?" "Yes, I was down in the street. Gillespie might have been the man in the studio. He looked as though he could kill, ruthlessly, if the motive was strong enough. You live around here, Mr. Gillespie?" Gillespie nodded absently. "I live at the Parliament." The Parliament was a well known and expensive hotel on lower Fifth Avenue. "You live at the Parliament and you answered Mrs. Melville's ad?" Her brows rose. Handicapped Men, Women Placed In Jobs in Illinois

The Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation rehabilitated and placed in suitable jobs 4,207 handicapped men and women during the year ending June 30, 1957. This was reported today by George Barr, chairman of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

Barr said that in addition, the Illinois State Employment Service and its special job counseling program for the handicapped made job placements for 12,311 disabled workers. Combined earnings of these 16,518 persons, based on starting salaries totalled $10,999,436. This represents an increase of more than 48 per cent over their earnings before rehabilitation.

Barr commented that rehabilitation of handicapped workers costs far less than supporting them on public relief. Last year, 75 per cent of those rehabilitated in Illinois were dependent on relatives or public aid. The other 25 per cent were living on savings compensation insurance, or were working but would have become unemployed without the services of the DVR. An average of two dependents benefitted by each rehabilitation.

In Illinois it costs about $593 of tax income to rehabilitate a handicapped individual. Last year, the rehabilitation program in Illinois cost $2,495,062. Barr said that as the handicapped workers' earning power increases, they are able to "repay" in taxes what public funds were expended on their rehabilitation. The DVR program is supported in equal parts by State and Federal funds.

Eisenhower Says Justice Dep't Probing Labor Corruption Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower disclosed today that the Justice Department for some months has been investigating charges of corruption in labor unions.

So far, he said, the department has not made a report.

Eisenhower made the statement at his news conference when asked whether the government planned any further steps to curb labor corruption or collusion in the labor management field. The questioner said he referred particularly to the Teamsters Union and the trucking industry.

The President replied that he began conferring with his top labor and legal aides when the corruption charges were first made. He said the object was to determine whether the government could take any further steps.

Eisenhower's news conference was devoted almost exclusively to the Little Rock, Ark., school integration crisis.

However, in a brief discussion of the federal budget, he said it is going to be extremely hard to cut federal spending to 70 billion dollars a year.

For one thing, he said, all departments want more money, partly because of rising costs.

Eisenhower said that he did not see how the defense budget can be brought below 38 billion dollars. But he held out some hope of cuts by cutting back more on other programs like water pollution, power developments and vocational training to state governments.

In other news conference highlights, the President:

—Said he had recently received a message from King Saud of Saudi Arabia expressing warm friendship, satisfaction with past U. S.-Arabian relations, and a hope that such friendship would grow.

—Said the Syrian situation seems to be solidifying to some extent, with fears of bordering nations quieted. But he declined to speculate whether the danger to the free world has lessened.

—Referred to the superintendent of the Naval Academy a question on whether the Navy's Georgia football game in Norfolk should be cancelled because of the integration problem. He said he has enough responsibilities in that field already.

SIU Trustees Approve Appointment Of Full, Part-Time Staff Members

The Southern Illinois University board of trustees today approved appointment of four associate professors, five assistant professors, and 15 lecturers, along with 83 part-time instructors. Seven of the new full-time staff members and 32 of the part-time additions will teach in the Residence Centers.

Francis H. Horn, president of Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, was named lecturer and distinguished visiting professor of higher education.

Another visiting lecturer is Herbert Roan, formerly art director for House Beautiful magazine and art and design unit director for the State Department. He will serve as lecturer and instructor in design.

Horace B. Huddle, a University of Miami professor, was named lecturer and professor of chemistry in the SIU Residence Center, located at Alton and East St. Louis.

For the Carbondale campus, Albert Shafter, a Carbondale native who has been mental health educator for the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, was named associate professor of sociology. William M. Herr, an economist with the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, is a new associate professor of agricultural industries.

Elizabeth Mullins, an area residence hall director at Indiana University, replaces Elizabeth Greenleaf as coordinator of student activities. Thomas J. Burns, a certified public accountant and assistant professor at Lawrence College, joins the Vocational-Technical Institute.

Three other assistant professors and their departments are: Lowell S. Jordan, research assistant at the University of Minnesota, plant industry, and Robert W. Duncan, assistant professor at the University of Wichita, English, assigned to Residence Centers.

Mrs. Vesta Morgan, wife of SIU's supervisor of campus service departments and a teacher at Carbondale Community high school, will lecture in home and family.

Raymond L. Foster and Mrs. Frances Loder will be resident counselors in student housing. Foster will also be a lecturer in administration and supervision and Mrs. Loder will lecture in speech.

Other Carbondale appointments include:

Louise A. Johnson formerly with the National Opinion Research Center, lecturer in sociology.

Ulrich Lehmann recently on the faculty of the University of Hamburg, Germany, lecturer in geology.

Queen Elizabeth Plans Trip Despite Son Having Flu

LONDON (CP)—Queen Elizabeth will go to the United States and Canada on schedule this month despite the fact her son has flu, informed sources predicted today.

They said 8 year old Prince Charles, who was put in the infirmary at Cheam School Wednesday, probably would be well again by the time the Queen and Prince Philip are scheduled to start their trip Oct. 12.

Word of Prince Charles' illness was sent to Buckingham Palace Wednesday.

It appeared to be a mild form of flu now sweeping Britain and the usual cure is several days in bed.

Rachel Roberts Jackson lived to see her husband elected president, but died before he moved into the White House.

Reach 'Dead End' In Probe of Bombing at Colp

COLP, Ill. (AP) — Williamson County Sheriff Carl Miller says he has reached a "dead end" in an investigation of the bombing of a Negro night club at Colp Monday night.

Miller said that two leads he was pursuing in the case "did not pan out."

William Hatchett Jr., Negro president of the Colp grade school board owns the New Orleans night club which was ripped by the explosion. The Colp school was boycotted by white pupils after the Negro dominated board voted to consolidate Negro and white schools.

There were no injuries in the blast. Miller said he and an insurance investigator concluded Wednesday that about eight sticks of dynamite were used.

No reason has been advanced for the blast, but authorities said

Sunday Proclaimed Nursing Home Day

Gov. William G. Stratton has proclaimed Sunday to be Nursing Home Day throughout the state of Illinois.

The Eldorado nursing home will hold open house from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. in observance of this special day. All citizens of the community are invited to attend the open house and are welcome to visit the home at all times.

Civic organizations are participating in this project and the Ministerial Association of Eldorado will contribute singing groups and other organizations will attend and furnish entertainment.

Lanthanum is second most abundant metallic element belonging to the rare-earth group, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

They do not believe the school trouble was responsible.

Miller said Hatchett indicated he would rebuild the dance hall

Troops to Remain, Eisenhower Says

naturally disappointed that they could not reach the desired agreement with Faubus. But these governors are not completely hopeless and are pursuing the purpose for which their committee was established by the Southern Governors' Conference.

—Federal troops could be removed when Faubus supplies satisfactory and unequivocal assurances that the orders of the Federal District Court to open Central High School to Negroes will not be obstructed and law and order will be maintained.

—The factual, gradual development of a peaceful situation in Little Rock in which local police could maintain control.

Eisenhower had high praise for the four southern governors who met with him here this week. He said the fact that they were doing their duty as good citizens, even though they did not like the court orders, had excited his admiration. The four were Govs. Leroy Collins of Florida, Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, Luther Hodges of North Carolina and Frank Clement of Tennessee.

Their efforts to work out a compromise solution collapsed when Faubus gave what Eisenhower considered to be an unsatisfactory answer.

Eisenhower declined to answer a hypothetical question on the use of federal troops in other southern areas in case new "Little Rocks" develop. He said he still found it hard to believe that a situation would ever have arisen such as it did in Little Rock.

Bushel Here to Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has decided to stick to the old bushel basket, at least for next year. The government decided to drop an economic plan to measure its grain operations by hundredweights after a group of grain traders protested the move would cause "chaos" in their industry.

Bull Dogs Meet Mt. Vernon in Conference Tilt Here Friday Night

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, rudely jolted at a T-party on high school hill at Eldorado last week, return to home soil to face another formidable opponent Friday night.

The locals, beaten 56-6 by Eldorado as the Eagles put on as fine an exhibition on how the T-forma-tion should be run as one ever sees on a southern Illinois prep gridiron, meet the Mt. Vernon Rams in a South Seven conference game at Taylor Field in a contest starting at 7 p. m. Friday.

The Rams, coached by Noble Thomas, last week ran roughshod over a West Frankfort team that had appeared impressive in winning its first two contests. The score was 36-7.

With a lot of speed in the back-field, Mt. Vernon is scoring a lot on long runs. After the Rams took a 2-0 lead on a safety they scored on a 48-yard punt return by Willie Hardin and a 70-yard jaunt by Willie Rodgers.

So Harrisburg's big job will be to keep the fleet backs from be-

Cardinals are Definitely Interested in Obtaining Robin Roberts, Lane Says

NEW YORK (U)—Frank Lane said today the Cardinals are "definitely interested" in obtaining Robin Roberts but there were indications St. Louis might have to outbid the National League champion Milwaukee Braves.

Lane refused to commit himself on which players he might offer the Phillies, but the Braves apparently are ready to give up a pitcher plus infielder Felix Mantilla and catcher Carl Sawatski if they can swing the deal.

"I still consider Roberts a mighty fine pitcher even though he lost 22 games this year," Lane said. "He's the kind of competitor who could come right back and win 15 or 18 next season."

Roy Hamey, general manager of the Phillies, also thinks along Lane's lines in that respect and thus far has shown no indication he is ready, to peddle the 31-year-old right hander, who won 20 or more games every season from 1950 through 1955.

The Phillies, however, are known to be in the market for right-handed power hitters and the Cards might be induced to part with Ken Boyer.

"I don't want to say who I'd give up for Roberts," Lane explained, "because no matter who I named, Hamey would come back and say, 'I wouldn't give up Roberts for three of whomever Lane offered."

"If Roberts is available, the St. Louis club is definitely interested. And I think we could make

Ford Has Clear Path to Be Top Series Hurler

NEW YORK (U)—Whitey Ford, the little southpaw who pitches the big games for the New York Yankees, seems to have a clear path today toward becoming the most successful World Series pitcher of all time.

The 28-year-old Ford's 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in Wednesday's 1957 opener marked his fifth triumph in a Series career dating back to his rookie campaign in 1950. He is only two victories behind the Series mark held jointly by ex-Yankee heroes Red Ruffing and Allie Reynolds and should draw six to eight more starting shots before he hangs up his glove.

Whitey can expect to pick up at least one, and perhaps two more

Yama Bahama Wants Bout With DeMarco In Welterweight Class
CHICAGO (U)—Yama Bahama, a durable West Indian fighter, wants to get out of the middleweight class and fight welterweight Tony DeMarco in his next bout.

Bahama, who has been fighting middleweights for the last year, scored another win in the 160-pound class Wednesday night, defeating another welterweight, Del Flanagan, St. Paul, Minn., in an overweight battle. Bahama scaled 154 pounds and Flanagan 153.

Neither fighter was impressive and both said they were too heavy to be at their best.

Henson on Program of School Administrators At U. of I. Oct. 8-9

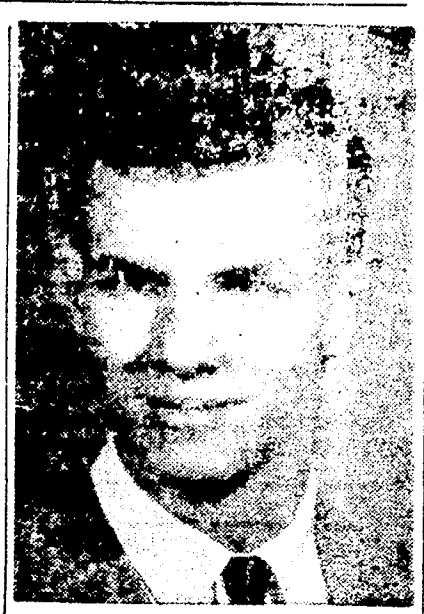

Elis F. Henson, principal of the Harrisburg Township high school, will be on the program of a triple meeting of Illinois high school administrators at the University of Illinois Oct. 8 and 9. Dean Robert B. Browne of the Division of University Extension, announced today at Urbana.

Henson will lead a panel discussion on "How Can We Better Identify and Serve Non-Academic Students?"

Overlapping meetings, which are presented by the University's College of Education and Division of University Extension, are sponsored by the Illinois Secondary School Principal Association, the North Central Association for Illinois Schools, and the Illinois High School Association.

Headline speakers are Hon. John W. Studebaker, former U. S. Commissioner of Education, and Sheriff Joseph D. Lohmann of Cook county.

A private "turnpike" more than three miles in length has been built by Amherst Coal Co., in West Virginia to speed up haulage of coal from mine to preparation plant.
